COORDINATOR SPEAKS

ARUN PRAKASH JHA, our dedicated Academic Coordinator for Classes XI-XII, shared his insights on the remarkable achievements of our Class XII students in the 2023-24 Board Examinations. He proudly highlighted how our school has consistently produced district toppers since 2014, describing this record as a “great achievement” for the school.

When asked about his expectations for the current batch of Class XII, i.e., 2024-25, Jha Sir expressed optimism, noting that the students are hardworking and determined. His role as the coordinator has been pivotal in maintaining this standard of excellence. “I have to develop an atmosphere that will help students cope with the subjects,” he explained, emphasizing the importance of his responsibility towards the students. He also elaborated on how the syllabus changes significantly from 10th to 11th grade and the need to ensure a smooth transition to support students’ academic growth. Additionally, he strives to build strong relationships between students and teachers.

When asked for a “special mantra” for the students, he responded, “There’s no specific mantra, as the strategy changes every academic year according to the CBSE guidelines. However, hard work and determination are two key qualities that should be regularly practiced while preparing for Boards.”

Jha Sir confidently used the phrase, “IF HE CAN, HE WILL,” reflecting his belief in his students’ determination and capabilities.

Lastly, he shared his reflections on past mistakes and his plans for improvement: “I regret not encouraging students to participate in extracurricular activities and focusing solely on academics. I realized this towards the end of the last session and subsequently took 10th and 12th-grade students on a field trip, which recharged them during a stressful period.”

Looking ahead, Jha Sir is determined to continue guiding students towards success by promoting both academic excellence and overall development.

COORDINATOR SPEAKS

BHASKAR CHOUDHARY, the academic coordinator for Class X, shared his reflections on the 2023-24 board results with great pride. When asked about the remarkable achievement of over 35 students scoring above 90%, he expressed immense joy in witnessing their success. "The greatest reward for any teacher is seeing their students succeed, not only in exams but also in life," he remarked.

He attributed the outstanding results to the relentless hard work and dedication of the students, coupled with unwavering support from their families, friends, and teachers. "It's not just one factor—it's a collective effort," Bhaskar Sir emphasized, highlighting how the synergy between all parties contributed to the students' achievements.

When asked about his role as the academic coordinator, he humbly stated that his efforts were just a part of a larger collaborative endeavor. "No single teacher can take full credit. It was the collective guidance of all the educators that led to this success," he explained. Bhaskar Sir also underscored the importance of regular practice, doubt-clearing sessions, and time management—key elements he had focused on to aid the students' preparation.

Touching on the mistakes teachers might have made, Bhaskar Sir offered a reflective and empowering message: "Learn, unlearn, and relearn. These three principles are vital not just in education but in life as well. Believing in oneself is crucial. Failing is not the end—it's a lesson. Keep trying, and success will follow."

As for a special mantra that could inspire students, Bhaskar Sir shared the "6 D's"—Discipline, Devotion, Determination, Dedication, Desire, and Dream—qualities he believes are essential for achieving one's goals.

In closing, he echoed a powerful sentiment: "Education is the most powerful weapon which you can use to change the world."

TOPPERS TALK

Srijani Ray, who emerged as the district topper in the 12th Board exams in Korba, shared her insightful reflections on the journey to her remarkable achievement.

Initially, she described how she felt euphoric when she came to know about her achievement. But when she stepped out in the real world, she soon realized how it was just a great headstart to her career and she needs to overcome many more hurdles and challenges and continue to achieve more.

During the Boards preparation, she went through her day like any typical student preparing for it. Excluding the revisions she did in school, she made sure to study 5-6 hours everyday at home as well. It would get quite hectic, hence she made sure to take much needed rest and breaks in between.

Instead of planning a specific schedule, she preferred setting a few goals for the day and accomplishing them by the end of the day felt like a reward to her.

On being asked to share a "special mantra" with her alumnus, she shared how she firmly believes in the phrase 'CONSISTENCY IS THE KEY' and recommends to be consistent while preparing for Boards, or any other examination. Studying daily with the same intensity and sincerity is very crucial. Another important thing to be noted is to have a limited set of resources. 'Revisions are better when resources are limited' said Srijani.

TOPPERS TALK

Srijani had manifested this achievement of hers by believing her in herself and working hard for it. She encourages everyone to believe in themselves as well.

"I used to take so much pressure on myself that I am losing marks in any subject, particularly Maths. I became very disheartened when I scored low and starting doubting myself and was filled with many negative thoughts at a point of time. I thought it was not my cup of tea", said Srijani, when asked about her regrets. She still continuously worked hard to improve her weak points and continued to have hope.

In the end, Srijani's story is a testament to the power of resilience, determination, and the unwavering belief that with hard work, any challenge can be overcome.

TOPPERS TALK

Vanshika Garg, who achieved an impressive 97.4% in her 10th Board exams and earned the title of school topper, recently shared her insights with us.

When asked how she felt upon seeing her results, she said, "I was overwhelmed and couldn't process my results for the first few minutes. Slowly, it hit me that all my hard work had paid off. Interestingly, being the school topper wasn't my goal while preparing. I was simply focused on giving my best."

On being asked to share a "special mantra", Vanshika emphasized the importance of consistency, suggesting that students should aim to finish the syllabus one or two months ahead of time to avoid last-minute stress. She recommended utilizing the final days by regularly practicing previous years' question papers (PYQs), which helped her immensely. She further pointed out that studying from NCERT books is more than sufficient for board preparation and acknowledged the guidance provided by her teachers.

Regarding her motivation, Vanshika credited her parents. "My parents were my biggest motivation. They constantly encouraged me to do my best, gave me hope and believed in me."

When asked if she had any regrets, she said, "I don't think I have any regrets. Every decision, whether right or wrong, has brought me to where I am today. I've learned from my mistakes and do not regret making them."

Vanshika's experience shows that with dedication and the right support, achieving your goals is entirely possible.

TOPPERS TALK

Shrine Suman Singh, the school topper who achieved an impressive 97.4% in her 10th Boards Examination, recently shared her thoughts on her performance.

When asked about her reaction upon seeing her results, Shrine said, "I was absolutely thrilled when I saw my result. I was hoping for a good score, but I never imagined I'd top. It felt like all the hard work had paid off."

On being asked to share a "special mantra", Shrine highlighted the significance of consistent study habits. "It's not about studying for hours at a stretch. Even just 30 minutes a day can make a big difference as long as you're revisiting all subjects. The key is to stay regular and avoid last-minute stress."

When asked about her biggest source of motivation, she replied, "I was driven by a personal desire to prove myself. I wanted to create a strong foundation for my future studies, and that kept me focused."

Finally, reflecting on any regrets, Shrine admitted, "I regret doubting myself too often during the preparation process. That self-doubt is something I'll carry with me, and I wish I had trusted my efforts more."

Shrine's journey serves as a reminder that consistency and self-belief are key to turning hard work into success.

Together We Care: A Charity Initiative

As a kid, I always loved having or dreaming of new sports equipment like footballs, cricket bats, and more. At the end of each month, I eagerly waited for my father to return home because he would bring toys, balls, bats, and other exciting items. These moments were some of the most thrilling parts of my childhood.

With these memories in mind, I decided to take the help of my teachers and began distributing footballs to children in need. Watching their faces light up with joy as they received the footballs was an incredibly rewarding experience, filling me with a sense of happiness that's hard to put into words. Many of these kids had never owned a football before, and seeing them run off to play, laughing and kicking the ball around, reminded me of my own childhood.

It was a beautiful moment to witness their excitement as they quickly formed teams, giving each other the names of famous footballers like Ronaldo and Messi. The laughter that followed only made the moment more memorable. I felt a deep sense of pride knowing I contributed to their happiness, giving them a chance to enjoy a sport that fosters teamwork and physical activity. The knowledge that I helped create smiles and lasting memories for these children made all the effort worthwhile.

This heartwarming experience is one I will cherish forever.

I want to express my gratitude to my teachers, Bhaskar Sir and Piyush Sir, as well as my friend Harmeet, for supporting me at every step in implementing this plan. I hope we can continue developing more initiatives to promote all types of sports in our country and extend our help to more underprivileged children.

Cheers to tEACHer who helped you bloom

“Teachers plant the seeds of knowledge, and students are the garden where those seeds blossom into the future.”
Teacher’s Day is a day for celebration of the teachers’ efforts, as well as a day that highlights the special bond between students and teachers. For students, teachers are more than educators—they are mentors, role models, and sometimes, our biggest cheerleaders.

To honor our beloved teachers, the Class XII students of DPS Balco organized a heartfelt celebration, showcasing a series of captivating performances that reflected their gratitude and admiration. The event concluded with the presentation of thoughtful gifts as tokens of appreciation for the unwavering dedication and effort our teachers put into shaping our lives for the better.

HUNTING HYDERABAD

HERITAGE

"All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy."

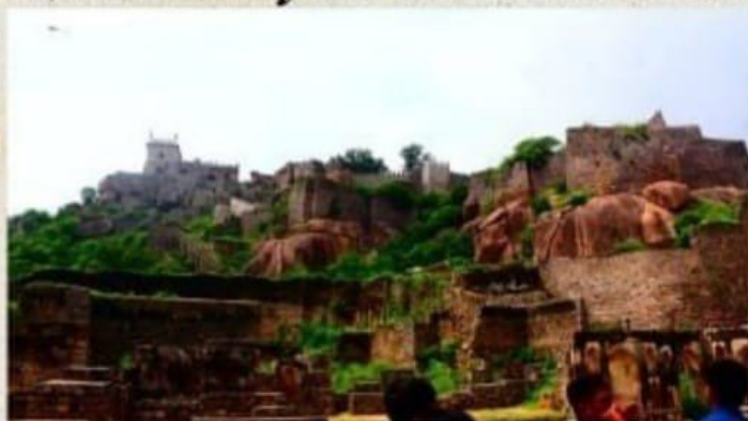

Understanding this, our school organized a trip to Hyderabad for the 10th and 12th-grade students to provide a much-needed break from their studies. Renowned for its rich history, vibrant culture, and rapid development, Hyderabad was the perfect destination.

Under the guidance of teachers like Sahoo Sir, Bhaskar Sir, Ila Mam, and Nivedita Mam, students spent five memorable days exploring the city. They began with a visit to Charminar, an iconic Indo-Islamic structure symbolizing Hyderabad, followed by the historic Mecca Masjid and the serene Birla Temple. They also enjoyed a fun-filled day at Snow World.

The second day was dedicated to exploring Golconda Fort, gaining insights into the city's heritage. The trip culminated in a visit to Ramoji Film City, one of the largest film studio complexes globally, offering an array of film sets and attractions.

Returning from the trip, students and teachers were filled with overwhelming feelings of excitement, nostalgia, and fulfillment, cherishing the memories created together.
